Wall of Giving & Sharing

It is rightly said that there are three kinds of givers: the flint, the sponge, and the honeycomb. One must vigorously hammer the flint to get shards and sparks. The sponge: the harder you squeeze it the more it delivers. The honeycomb, however, just overflows with its own sweet kindness.

The question is what kind of givers and sharers are we?

None of us can row the boat alone — certainly not very far and not for long.

Therefore, to encourage the Sharing & Giving value and help create a better sustainable world, a Wall of Giving is proposed to be made available at the University premises.

Wall of Giving is a designated area at the University reception with a Donation Box placed under it for anonymous donation. The following will be designated as our beneficiary:

1. To express our gratitude for our Safai Karamcharis (Cleanliness Warriors) of the entire Baru Sahib campus who are the reason we are in a clean and safe environment.
2. To express our gratitude for our Community Kitchen Volunteers who feed the entire community with utmost sewa and devotion.
3. For our Akal Charitable hospital warriors, who work relentlessly and selflessly to provide care and life- support during the pandemic times and through the days and nights

Outline of the process for disbursing the gratuity will be as follows:

Quarterly on a designated day, the amount collected will be distributed in 3 equal portions among the beneficiaries & a record will be maintained. Detailed process to follow. Later on, we will create a digital payment option as well.
