Preservation of horticultural and agricultural products using low cost solar dryer fabricated from locally available materials

Objective:

To design and develop a low-cost solar dryer using locally available materials for preserving horticultural and agricultural products.

Methodology:

A solar dryer consists of three major components i.e. air heater, drying cabinet and chimney. The low-cost indirect natural convection solar dryer was designed using locally available materials such as wood, pine needles and other scrap materials. Moreover, the various horticultural and agricultural products such as apple, tomato, cauliflower, mushroom etc. were preserved in dried form.

Results and Conclusions:

The drying performance of the designed system was evaluated taking apple slices of the same thickness of 2 mm with same initial weight. Experiments were performed at different chimney heights of 3.0, 4.5 and 6.0 feet. The efficiency of the dryer was also measured in different climatic conditions. The designed solar dryer have maximum efficiency of 10.38% whereas maximum drying rate observed is 3.76 gm/min during the sunny day at 4.5 chimney height. For improving the performance of solar dryer, optimization of the design parameters and drying conditions can be made by repeating these experiments. Furthermore, the qualitative and quantitative analyses of microbial population before and after drying are requisite to maintain the quality of the dried product.

Introduction

A major concern for our day to day life. Energy delivered from the Sun is regarded as one of the most promising options. Energy is directly utilized by solar photovoltaic and solar thermal technologies. Solar photovoltaic technology-Direct conversion of solar energy into Electricity. Solar thermal technology-Direct conversion of solar energy into heat energy. The solar dryer utilizes solar energy to heat up air and to dry any agricultural product. The product suffers from serious problem of infestation by insect and mold dust which affects the food quality.

Dear Sir

Subject: Request for Conduction of Five-Day Faculty Development Programme on Capacity Building Programme

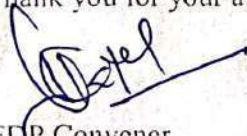

I am writing to inform you about an upcoming Five-Day Faculty Development Programme (FDP) on Capacity Building Programme for University faculty that we had already planned with your representative. It is going to be organised from 10th May to 14th May 2022. The aim of this FDP is to equip faculty members with the necessary knowledge and skills to use effectively and efficiently in 21st century.

We invite you to partner with us for this FDP and send well trained and skilled resource persons. We propose to have a total of 30 faculty members participate in the programme from our university. We agreed to the total charges of 150,000 INR i.e., 5000 per faculty as per our telephonic conversation.

We will pay 50000 in advance and rest of the amount will be paid after the workshop. The resource persons will be responsible for delivering the sessions and facilitating group discussions during the FDP.

We believe that this FDP will greatly benefit our faculty members and foster 21st century pedagogical skills. We look forward to your collaboration on this initiative.

Thank you for your attention to this matter

Dear Sir

Subject: Request for Conduction of Five-Day Faculty Development Programme on NEP 2020 Implementation

I am writing to inform you about an upcoming Five-Day Faculty Development Program (FDP) on the implementation of the New Education Policy (NEP) 2020 at our university that we had already planned with your representative. It is going to be organised from 9th May to 13th May 2023.

The aim of this FDP is to equip faculty members with the necessary knowledge and skills to effectively implement the NEP at our institution. The programme will cover various aspects of the policy, including curriculum design, assessment methods, teacher training, and student evaluation.

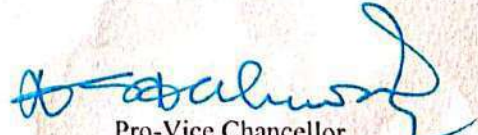

We invite you to partner with us for this FDP and send well trained and skilled resource persons. We propose to have a total of 30 faculty members participate in the programme from our university. We agreed to the total charges of 150,000 INR ie 5000 per faculty as per our telephonic conversation.

We will pay 50000 in advance and rest of the amount will be paid after the workshop. The resource persons will be responsible for delivering the sessions and facilitating group discussions during the FDP.

We believe that this FDP will greatly benefit our faculty members and contribute to the successful implementation of the NEP at our university. We look forward to your collaboration on this initiative.

Thank you for your attention to this matter
