REFORMS IN THE EXAMINATION SYSTEM AT ETERNAL UNIVERSITY

As per the student's handbook, section 9.2.1. First Sessional theory Examination (FSTE) is conducted by the concerned Dean of the college. Similarly the Mid-Sessional Practical Examination (MSPE) as per section 9.2.3 is conducted before the Second-sessional theory examination (SSTE) by concerned Dean of the college. Both these examinations are considered as the Internal Examinations.

Both the First Sessional theory Examination (FSTE) and Mid-Sessional Practical Examination (MSPE) are conducted in the routine periods of the courses by the class instructors and considered as working days. However, the experience shows that students abstain from the regular classes, shorting the duration of working days of the semester. Nearly fourteen days are lost in this process. Moreover the process burdens the teachers for framing the question papers and checking answer sheet for both these examination.

Keeping in view in the necessity of reforms in examination system the marks distribution for different credit hours courses is given below.
