STUDENTS TRAINING & PLACEMENT

Summer Training Project Report: Theoretical knowledge without the practical exposure is worth valueless. Theoretical studies in classroom are not sufficient to understand the functioning and nature of practical work. Therefore, it becomes necessary to undergo training project work that exposes the student to invaluable pleasure of experience. The B.Com. (Hons.) and BBA final year students underwent on-the-job practical training in their selected organizations. The time period for this summer training was of 45 days, i.e. from July 1st, 2024 to August 17th, 2024. The students, after the completion of training prepared a summer training project report and also gave presentation as per notified schedule on September 19th, 2024. They submitted three hard copies along with soft copy of project report to the co-ordinator on November 29th, 2024. The photos of submission of summer training project reports are given below:

 Title of Thesis/Synopsis: : A Study on Innovation in Agriculture and Rural Development in Kiar-Da-Dun valley of District Sirmour, Himachal Pradesh

Objectives:

1. To examine the socio-economic status of different category of sample farmers.
2. To examine the status of various innovations adopted by different categories of sample farmers
3. To workout the contribution of innovation in different sectors to the household economy and rural development of study area.

Brief Methodology (Not more than 100 words):

This methodology outlines a study in the Kiar-da-dun Valley, District Sirmaur focusing on villages along the Bata River. The study employs a two-stage stratified random sampling technique. In the first stage, villages are divided into three segments based on the river's length with four villages (two from each side) randomly selected from each segment. The second stage involves randomly selecting five households from each chosen village (three marginal and two small farmers) resulting in a total sample of 36 small and 24 large farmers. Primary data will be gathered through surveys, interviews, and field observations, while secondary data will be collected from government reports and academic literature. The data will be analyzed using descriptive statistics to identify relationships between variables like education, market access, and their impact on farmer income and crop yield.

WORLD CONSUMER RIGHTS DAY

World Consumer Rights Day 2025 with theme of “A Just Transition to Sustainable Lifestyles,” was celebrated with great enthusiasm from March 18 to 20, 2025 to promote awareness about consumer rights and the importance of accessible, affordable, and sustainable lifestyle choices for all. The program was conceptualized under the leadership of Professor S.K. Chauhan, Dean of the College, who appointed Dr. Shivani Dutt as the convener. The event saw active involvement from faculty members Dr. Kajal Chaudhary, Dr. Ankit Pathania, Dr. Pawan Kumar Dubey, Dr. Neha, Dr. Manjinder Kaur, Ms. Kuldeep Kaur, and Ms. Neevia, along with enthusiastic participation from students of the Economics, Commerce, and Management departments. The celebrations began with a Consumer Awareness Rally, which was flagged off by Prof. Jaswinder Singh, Vice Chancellor of Eternal University. The Vice Chancellor addressed the gathering, highlighting the significance of informed consumerism and sustainable living. Students performed a Nukkad Natak (street play) to creatively highlight consumer rights issues and promote ethical consumption. A Poster Making Competition allowed students to express their understanding of sustainable consumerism through art, while a hands-on session on creative recycling encouraged practical learning about upcycling waste materials. The event outcomes included increased awareness of consumer rights, enhanced creativity and problem-solving skills among participants, and the empowerment of students as advocates for sustainability. The winners of the Poster Making Competition were Aditi (BBA, 2nd Year) and Sanvi (B.Com, 1st Year), while Gurleen Kaur (B.Com, 1st Year) and Harkirat Kaur (BBA, 1st Year) were awarded first and second prizes respectively in the Presentation Competition. Overall, the event was a resounding success, with 63 students participating and valuable contributions from the faculty, fostering a deeper understanding of consumer rights and sustainable practices within the university community.
